

I believe we are all connected by one common thread.

We all come at life from different places.

We travel our own colorful and unique paths and glide in and out of each other's lives, weaving colorful patterns as we go.
Every now and then, a person comes along who makes an indelible impression. Those encounters have a profound effect on the way we view the world and influence the choices we make from that day forward. Rhythms, events, encounters... rolling along in unpredictable sequence.

I'm Tommy.

I'm a husband, a dad, a grandfather, and a mentor. I've crafted many lasting friendships over the years that comprise the eclectic fabric of my life. Working as a liaison—binding customers, designers, and the print shop that became my second home for 37 years—taught me a little something about what it takes to earn trust and create a seamless collaboration. I am offering my services to help guide you through your marketing process... at whatever capacity you feel most comfortable. There will be no dollar value for my time. No hidden clauses. No fine print. The value added will be my knowledge and years of experience. It is my hope that we can create something together—something that intertwines the threads of our ideas into an intriguing, compelling project. And Zoltun Design... they'll be there for us when we figure it all out.
